THE EVENT

For more than a decade, Tyrone D. Bland has been committed to philanthropic service. With successful careers in both public and private sector, most recently as Head of Government Affairs at CAA (Creative Artist Agency), Mr. Bland established the T.D. Bland Family Foundation.

The Foundation will join corporate and community leaders throughout Southern California and the State of California to raise awareness and direct resources to worthy non-profit, community centered organizations.

The Foundation's Executive Board has chosen to partner with various Los Angeles Community Arts Programs to creatively support the engagement of people, ideas and resources directly impacting the Southern California Arts Community.

This partnership will establish vital connections between art/artists, the global arts communities, and enhance the strength, knowledge, and resources for arts programs throughout Southern California.

Our driving force is to assist regional arts programs in reaching all segments of the community and to build a stronger and more dynamic arts infrastructure to ensure overall strategic long range plans, through research, documentation, evaluation and funding.

The Foundation will work to demonstrate the economic impact of the arts, and enhance public understanding of how the arts contribute to the vitality of the state of California and our nation.

As a grant maker, program initiator, developer of resources, and builder of creative partnerships among artists, arts and organizations and donors, the Foundation will use this opportunity to celebrate Los Angeles Community Arts Programs and its characteristic values while playing a supporting role in advocating access to the arts for everyone.
